good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most scape and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified co-coanut oil (which is pure and entirely grasseless), much better than the most expensive scap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rines out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fuffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified occount oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

COMMITTEE PLANS FOR STATE PROTECTION Railroad and Munitions Factories

Now Haven Men on Duty. Preparations made by the Commitee on State Protection of the Con-lecticut State Council of Defense for Connecticut in the absence of the regular militia were outlined at a recen-meeting of the council, in a repor submitted by Colonel Lucien F. Bur-pee, chairman of the state protection committee and also chairman of the Military Emergency Board, which is in charge of the Connecticut Home Guard.
The report pubmitted by Colone upon retailers by competition and the unreasonable demands of patrons.

"It is clear," says the letter, "that any reform in this direction must come from two sources—first, from the public, and, second, from the dealers themselves. Believing that women, as the chief purchasers, are mainly responsible for the unreasonable demands upon dealers, the Consultation of the report purchase in part, follows:

Concerning the bridges and property of the New York, New Haven, and Hartford Railroad Company, it has been the expense of protecting whatever it now deems it necessary to protect. The railroad will supply and pay the men necessary to secure able demands upon dealers, the Consultation of the report purchases. mainly responsible for the unreasonable demands upon dealers, the Connecticut State Council of Defense has asked the cooperation of the Connecticut Division of the Women's Committee of the Council of National Defense, and the women in charge of this division are inaugurating a state-wide propaganca to mitigate this ranks any additional men that may be reasonably required at any time

Plans are being made with the aplarger merchants in the state, and already their suggestions have been taken up with some localities, notably New Haven and Waterbury.

The movement is unquestionably of value and has a direct bearing on the war, and will probably receive enthusiastic support and cooperation from the citizens of Connecticut.

I manding Officers of the Eastern and Northeastern Departments.

Members of this committee have had interviews with representatives of the large munition manufacturers in their respective districts. Up to this time, none of them has made any specific request for direct assistance from the state, and plans have been mediately placed on duty to re-enforcement.
